HAPPENINGS

RECAP OF MARCH

Last month we learned about the gift of TRANSFORMATION. We describe ourselves as a “living tradition” which means we expect changes as we learn and grow. During our time in the classroom we explored ways in which chance was exciting and also a little intimidating. Artwork included a large mural and collages.

MARCH THEME

We are excited to be able to delve into The Gift of Interdependence with three main focuses in this month: community, creatures, and creations, and how we have a give-and-take relationship with them all. The goal this month is to have fun working together in a way that helps kids explore what interdependence means for us as Unitarian Universalists, the difference between independence and interdependence, and how our faith teaches us and lifts up the idea that we can't go it alone.

FAMILY CIRCLE

Mark your calendar for Saturday, April 23rd at 3 pm! Carrie Jenkins and family will host us at their house for our April Family Circle.

While the children run around and play, the caregivers will have a guided conversation about the importance of our faith as we navigate the upcoming election season.
